

With Payoff Time For Savings Plan Near Y-12ers Reminded That Revisions May Be Made Until July 15, Effective July 1

Extra Time Is Given To Change Participation

As the time of the payoff of the General Savings Fund of the Carbide Employees Savings Plan draws near, Y-12 participants probably will review, and some may possibly want to revise, their on saving. Eligible em-they wish, the designation of their deductions for the Plan. The change will automatically be effective as of July 1.

Additional Time To Change

This arrangement gives employees additional time to consider changing their participation. Some may want to change, for ployees now in the Savings Plan instance, from 100 per cent in the have until July 15 to change, if General Savings Fund to 50 per cent in General Savings Fund and 50 per cent in the Personal Savings Account, or to 100 per cent in the Personal Savings Account.

Normally, any change in designation made after June 30 and before September 30 would not become effective until October 1.

cially in big lumps. About the only way to get your hands on big lumps of money is to save it in small lumps. Saving money can be pretty hard to do—but that's where the Carbide Employee Savings Plan comes in. The Savings Plan makes it easier for Y-12ers to save, and the Company, by adding up to 30 per cent to what is saved, can make that lump of money grow bigger, faster. Here's

General Savings Fund

If Y-12ers are interested in short-term savings—if they want to save up for a car, or a boat, or a vacation trip, for instance—the General Savings Fund is for them.

If $6 is put under their mat-tress every week, they save $624 in two years. But if an employee with three years of Company Service Cedit puts $6 a week into the General Savings Fund for two years, the amount the Company contributes, plus two per cent interest, will bring the $624 up to $836. That's $212 more than is put

Personal Savings Account

Maybe a Y-12er wants to put money away on a long-term basis so that it will grow steadily and help build an estate. Such an estate can help provide for the security of the family or the education of the children. In this case, a Personal Savings Account is the part of the Plan to be interested

With a Personal Savings Account, the Company adds 30 per cent to money deposited, and the money may be invested in Gov-ernment Savings Bonds or UCC stock. It's like getting a discountyou get more bonds or stock than your money alone would buy.

TwinDaughters Of Y-12er Get ORHS Diplomas

The Bulletin has been privileged this spring to pay tribute to a number of outstanding high school and university graduates — and congratulate their Y-12 parents. Now comes the time for a double congratulation — this for A. M. Kirksey, a pipefitter in Research Services, whose charming twin daughters were graduated from Oak Ridge High School on May 29. They were the only twin girls 29. They were the only twin girls in the large graduating class.

Grades Better Than Average

The twins are Misses Fay and Kay Kirksey, 18. Despite their distinction as twins, they enjoyed a normal scholastic life. They took part in the usual school activities and their grades were better than average.

The Kirksey girls, in fact, have undergone all of their formal scholastic training in Oak Ridge schools. Their father came to work in Y-12 on February 28, 1944, when the youngsters were just three years old. They formerly lived in Chattanooga.

When they were six years old, they entered Linden School, then went on to Robertsville Junior High School before entering high

Active In Church Work

In addition to their school work, the twins are prominent in activities at the Robertsville Bapentering Sunday School class held in that institution. Now they are teachers in the Bible School there. Fay is president of the Young Women's Association of the Robertsville Church.

This week the twins are attending a nation-wide Baptist meeting at the church's Ridgecrest, N. C., campground. They were accompanied by another pair of twin girl friends, Misses Shirley and Charlotte Phillips, whose father is W. E. Phillips, of the Y-12 Mechanical Maintenance.

In games last week the Reactors picked up a pair of wins by beating the Whiz Kids by 5 to 3 and the Slow Pokes by 17 to 2. The Whiz Kids then trimmed the Sportsmen for an even break and the Sportsmen picked on the Slow Pokes for a 12 to 3 triumph.

The Reactors took advantage of Whiz Kid errors as they got only four hits in their 5 to 3 win. Spud Chandler held the Whizzers to two hits and his mates only got four off Matlock. In contrast, the Reactor win over the Slow Pokes was a slugging bee for the winners with 14 bingles as the victors wound it up with a big eight-run seventh inning.

The Whiz Kids got only two safeties off Bill Sise, Sportsmen hurler, but loose play behind him was costly as the Kids scored four times in the fifth to sew up the 5 to 1 win. However, with Ed Sise on the mound against the Slow Pokes the Sportsmen took advantage of 10 bases on balls by the opposition as well as three errors. The Whiz Kids and Sportsmen each picked up a forfeit win from the defunct Generals.

Record Number Of 157 Y-12 Golfers Entered In Y-12 Meet At Deane Hill

Big Tournament Slated For Saturday, June 20; Players Urged To Report For Assigned Starting

They were standing in line at the Recreation Office in Bldg. 9704-2 last Thursday morning and the phones were buzzing continuously as Y-12 golfers hustled to obtain starting times for the third plantwide golf tournament of the year to be held Saturday of this week, June 20, at the Deane Hill Golf and Country Club over in Knox

County. Within one hour the original available getaway times had been filled and after Lloyd Force, pro at the Deane Hill club had graciously allowed a few more vacancies, the total number of entries had swelled to 157 playersa record entry list for any Y-12 tournament.
Promptness Will Pay

This big parade of golfers will begin their trek around the sporty Deane Hill layout shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday morning with foursomes starting every seven minutes. Promptness will pay off for all entrants with close attention to their assigned starting times—as any tardy group will lose their place in line and be placed at the end of the procession with other foursomes being moved up one notch.

Entrants in the medal play tournament will be assigned to four divisions, according to their handicaps, which will be handed out by the starter at the first tee. Prizes of golf balls will be awarded the four low scorers in scratch and handicap in each division and also for the most and second most number of pars posted during the 18 holes of play. Play Only 18 Holes

Because of the large number of entrants and the usual play by club members on Saturday, Y-12ers in the tournament will be limited to 18 holes of play. Y-12ers who wish to practice putting before the tournament are asked to use the practice green provided for the purpose.

In case of inclement weather, the tournament will be postponed to a later date.

one part of the Plan, he wishes to switch contributions to the other part, it may be done. Y-12ers may also change from participation in one part of the Plan to equal participation in both parts. They also may change the amount they put into the Plan. These changes can be made at any time, but not oftener than once in a calendar quarter. There is this restriction, however. The previously saved funds cannot be transferred from one part to the other.

Withdrawals Can Be Made

In both parts of the Plan Y-12ers can withdraw the money put in, if it is needed. In some cases they don't get the Company con-tributions if they withdraw; in other cases there is a waiting per-iod during which they cannot participate in the Plan. The restraints on withdrawals under this Plan are imposed by government regulations.

Many employees have found it suits their needs to enroll for equal participations in both parts of the Plan. In this way they get the advantages that are in both methods of saving. They get cash from the General Savings Fund every two years, while they continue to build up an estate through their Personal Savings Account.
